1. under section 17(1) of the Act, a local authority which has issued a site licence in respect of a relevant regulated site for residential mobile homes, has served a compliance notice on you as the owner of the land, alleging failure to comply with a licence condition and requiring you to take such steps as the local authority considers appropriate to ensure compliance with the condition, and you wish to appeal to the tribunal against the notice under section 17(2) of the Act; OR
2. under section 21(3) of the Act, a local authority which has issued a site licence in respect of a relevant regulated site for residential mobile homes, has served on you, as the owner of the land, a notice of the emergency action that the authority has taken or intends to take on the land, and under section 21(9) you wish to appeal to the tribunal against the taking of the emergency action by the local authority; OR

 - b) In taking emergency action under section 21 and you wish to appeal to the tribunal under section 22(7) against that demand for expenses.

The application to the Tribunal under section 17(2) to appeal against a compliance notice must be made before the end of the period of 21 days beginning with the day on which the compliance notice was served.

The application to the Tribunal under section 21(9) to appeal against the taking of emergency action by the local authority must be made before the end of the period of 21 days beginning with the day on which the notice under section 21(8) describing the emergency action taken or to be taken, was served on the owner of the land.
